Kaiser's Dreams.
Napoleon Bonaparte placed his brothers and famous marshals at the throne of several conquered states in Europe. A writer in the London Spectator implies that Kaiser Wilhelm a desire to follow the French conqueror, not only in war and diplomacy, but also in appointing relatives or puppets as rulers of Teuton-tramped countries. According to the article, the Kaiser contemplates making his second son, Prince Friedrich, King of Prussia; his fifth son, Prince Oskar, Prince of Finland; a more able Hohenzollern, King of Rumania; while Albania is reserved for Prince William of Wied.

GERMAN WEST-FRONT BULWARK LITERALLY SMASHED.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 2, 8 p. m.—The American troops reached the embankments of the Bethune-Soissons roadway late Sunday night by literally cutting their way through acre after acre of barbed wire network—the work of two great armies. In gaining the road the Americans passed over great open places crawling, digging and fighting their way against fierce machine-gun fire.

Where Old Glory Has Been Raised Upon Soil of Belgium.

The heavy black line represents the battle front
As indicated by latest dispatches. By their capture of Vornesse, south of Ypres, the Americans have placed themselves in a position of great menace to the Germans. As the Americans now stand, they threaten to outflank the German position at the right of the Hindenburg line; further south, the Yanks are part of a combined force that threatens the German tenure of Chemin des Dames; still farther south, at Toul, they are only about twenty miles from German soil.

AMERICANS IN FLANDERS
VICTORS IN HARD FIGHT.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 2, 4:45 p.m.— American troops fighting with the British on the Flanders front made further progress today in the Voormesele region. The Americans have passed through Voormesele in an easterly direction, overcoming stiff enemy resistance.

The British, assisted by the American troops, continue to advance in the line of the heels of the retreating Germans, driving the enemy rear guard before them.
Douleux and Leverrier have been occupied.
Opposition developed near Steenkerke, but it was beaten down.
The advance east of Kemmel continues.
The British have gained ground toward Spanbroek Moutin.

ENEMY INFORMATION
IN SOCIAL LETTERS.
PERSONAL NOTES SENT BY WAY OF SCANDINAVIA CONVEY INTELLIGENCE.
[BY A. P. WIRE.]
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Information is being transmitted to the enemy in apparently harmless letters of a social and personal character sent by German-owned concerns in this country to home offices in Germany, according to a statement tonight by Alfred L.
Becker, deputy State Attorney-General.

While asserting that "at the present time it would not be consistent with the interests of justice to make public most of the communications under investigation" by his department, Mr. Becker cited one example of the letters which he said were in vogue, discovered by comparison of scores of other letters.
The example made public is that of a letter from the Pennsylvania Car Company of Pittsburgh to Or-nstein & Koppel of Berlin, of which, according to Mr. Becker, the American company is a branch. This communication takes the form of a purely personal letter from "Erich Rothberg," and is addressed "care
A. Bruce, Stockholm," most messages being sent through Scandinavian countries.

The Foreign Office is advised that the car company, referred to as "Mr.
Fonaco," is "well and active" now, although on "physician's advice," Becker said, it is "not desirable." Shipments of cars are referred to as "train rides every day" enjoyed by the "patient," and the regularity of such shipments, Mr. Becker stated, was implied by a display of pleasure over improvement in the patient's health.
Mr. Becker added that thousands of "very short" notes and addresses used in sending communications via Stockholm.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 2 (4 p.m.)—The British have pierced the Drocourt-Queant line. In a fierce battle, which has been raging since dawn and which will probably prove to be one of the most important of the war, Canadian and English troops at last reports had at one point driven in about five kilometers, or a little more than three miles, and were still going.
The fighting was as furious as any since the war began and increased in intensity as the British battled their way forward, meeting the ever-growing resistance of the enemy, who had put in every available man and was rushing up reserves at the rear.
Thousands of prisoners have been captured; the roads to the British rear are literally jammed with them.
There has been fierce fighting in Dury, which was taken by the British, and Mount Dury, which the Germans held in great strength, was stormed. The British went on after killing enormous numbers of the enemy. The Germans died fighting here as elsewhere.
Cagnicourt wood and Cagnicourt have been captured and Bois de Bouche, to the southeast is reported also to have been occupied.

BATTLE SUMMARY
SMASHING OF GERMAN FRONT.
[United War Bureau by the Associated Press.]
Over a front of thirty-three miles from the region of Arras to Peronne, Field Marshal Haig's forces have literally smashed the German front.
The southern portion of the famous Drocourt-Queant line, which had been heralded as the impregnable bulwark of the German defense in the north, has given way under the violence of the British onslaught over its entire front from the Scarpe River to Queant, a distance of about ten miles. Monday night the Canadian and English troops were pursuing the enemy some three miles to the east.
Thousands of prisoners have been taken. At last accounts the enemy was fighting violently as he gave ground toward the Canal du Nord.

By this victory seemingly is ended the menace of the Hindenburg line to the south, which the British are gradually approaching. Already thoroughly outflanked by the British on the left, the French wall upon its southern base, military necessity apparently requires that the Germans relinquish the Hindenburg fortifications and realize their front from Flanders to Belgium in order to avert disaster.
Already the roads to Douai, Cambrai and Valenciennes are thoroughly invested by the British and French armies, while north of Soissons the French and American troops are in a position of vantage from which they carry out turning movements which will outflank the German and Chemin des Dames and Aisne line. The situation of the enemy, which is the most perilous he has yet been in.

TROUBLE IN FLANDERS.
Added to the troubles of the German high command is the situation that is fast developing in Flanders. In the region around Ypres, where the Germans daily are being forced out of their positions by the British and American troops, the position of this sector steady progress is being made eastward, blotting out the salient that has long existed there.
The Americans who took Voormesele Sunday now are well into the region east of the town, having overcome the strong resistance of the Germans who endeavored to bar their way. A few more strides by Haig's men in this region and Arras will be within striking distance. After Ar-rasmies will be a step to Lille.
Hard fighting has been in progress between the British and Germans around Peronne, where the British have made fully taken several thousands of prisoners. Between Peronne and Bapaume the Germans also have imposed strong resistance to the British, but the British have been successfully carried.
On the southern end of the Canal du Nord, this time the British have made an important crossing of the junction point in the sector with lines leading from it to St. Quentin and La Fere.
North of Soissons equally important progress has been made.
Here, where the Americans are in line with the French, gains have been made on the plateau east of Crecy, successful of Crecy, succent and Juvigny, and the villages of Leulilly and Torny-Borny are in the hands of the British.

BRITISH IN FIERCEST BATTLE PIERCE DROCOURT-QUEANT LINE.

German Prisoners Clog Roads to Rear, While Fields are Piled High with Teuton Dead; Huns Mowed Down Vainly Battling to Stop Haig's Advance.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 2 (4 p.m.)—The British have pierced the Drocourt-Queant line. In a fierce battle, which has been raging since dawn and which will probably prove to be one of the most important of the war, Canadian and English troops at last reports had at one point driven in about five kilometers, or a little more than three miles, and were still going.

The fighting was as furious as any since the war began and increased in intensity as the British battled their way forward, meeting the ever-growing resistance of the enemy, who had put
in every available man and was rushing up reserves at the rear.

Thousands of prisoners have been captured; the roads to the British rear are literally
jammed with them.

There has been fierce fighting in Dury, which was taken by the British, and Mount Dury, which the Germans held in great strength, was stormed. The British went on after killing enormous numbers of the enemy. The Germans died fighting here as elsewhere.

Cagnicourt wood and Cagnicourt have been captured and Bois de Bouche, to the southeast
is reported also to have been occupied.

There has been terrific fighting in Dury, northeast of Queant. Large numbers of prisoners have been captured and progress made against the northern end of the Queant-Drocourt line.

During the night there was smashing battling around the British positions, which were almost jammed up against the great German defense system. Files of dead Germans were one of the results. During one enemy attack a sergeant with a machine gun killed sixty Germans who tried to rush him.

It was soon after 6 o'clock in the morning that the massed British broke loose with a roar that was heard for miles in a crash har-rang. The whole sky seemed ablaze as thousands of British shells poured into the German wire and lines.

When the barrage raised, the Canadian and English swarmed over the top. Just behind them were numerous tanks of all sizes. They had been over only a minute when the enemy opened with a counter-barrage, which is said to have been by far the strongest he has yet seen since the British offensive began.

The instant the British appeared the Germans in many cases jumped out of the trenches and held their hands high above their heads. In some cases the British met a hail of machine-gun bullets. They pushed on. Quickly the first line was overcome.

From all along the line came reports that the Germans were panic-stricken and many of them were found cowering in holes, screaming with fright.

By 7:30 the British had passed the German front and support lines.
Then the motor machine guns dashed out onto the good roads at the German rear. Tanks also managed to get through and they are working far in advance of the infantry.

Some of the fast motor machine guns are reported by the airplanes to have made their way along the Canal du Nord on the roads between Douai and Marquion, while others are reported to be holding the bridge heads against large numbers of German reserves, who certainly are coming up in the rear.

Along the Arras-Cambrai road the British have made good progress, and Villers-le-Cagnicourt, which was protected by special belts of wire and a powerful trench system, was the scene of desperate fighting. Both Villers-le-Cagnicourt and Cagnicourt are in British hands and the British have moved the battle considerably to the east of this.

Where the Arras-Cambrai highway crosses the Villers-le-Cagnicourt-Baudouin road, as well as all through this district, the Germans were in great strength. The crossroads are only nine and a half miles from Cambrai and their defense is of the utmost importance to the enemy.

Reports from Dury show the fighting was desperate. The Germans were massed and about to deliver an assault against the British positions.
A break through this line here will take the British into the open country and remove the Hindenburg line from the rear and the flank.

The attack was launched on a considerable front of 3 o'clock with strong British forces. The Germans had tried repeatedly, but unsuccessfully, to eject the British in the fighting of the last three days from the positions whence today's drive was started, so advantageously near the famous German defensive system.

Another attack was launched by the British this morning in the region north of Peronne.

Australians have crossed the Somme, capturing Peronne, are mop-ing it up. During the mopping up there has been brisk street fighting.
They have captured other towns and positions and one force is pushing northward astride the Canal du Nord. At last reports it had reached Allaines on the east side of the canal and the high ground opposite to the west bank.

The Canal du Nord constitutes another Boche defense system, and the British along this waterway have killed an enormous number of Germans who seem to have been packed into this locality.

Another force is pushing eastward, following the course of the Cologne River from Peronne. Most of the Peronne-Bapaume road has been taken.
There has been heavy fighting in Salliy-Salliel, where 160 prisoners were taken and another large group of Germans killed by the British.
Other forces are pushing forward down the Hirondele Valley and are close to Moreuil, which also is being approached from the north of Lon-gatte. This force is engaged in overcoming heavy resistance.

Early this morning the British began operating in the area northeast of Houdencourt. After three counter-attacks on the town had been smothered, the British attacked the headquarters at the chateau, from which seventy prisoners, including a battalion commander and his complete staff, were taken.

So swiftly did the British advance that at one point in the recent fighting a complete horse ambulance, including two doctors and 120 prisoners, were taken. At one place a British officer with one man bombed an enemy trench and then advanced. Eighty Germans of the German surrendered to the pair.

The effects of the recent Allied artillery fire are shown in an order signed by Gen. Ludendorff, who also apparently discloses a shortage of German artillery. Gen. Ludendorff says that during one month the Allied shell fire destroyed 12 per cent. of the German guns in action. He directs that strong counter-battery measures be taken.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 2.—(Reuter's.) The troops of Gen. Horne and Gen. Byng began today's offensive southeast of Arras and by 7:30 o'clock this morning they had completely reached the Drocourt-Queant line.

Two hours later it was rumored that groups of British motor machine gunners had been seen on the bank of the Canal du Nord, nearly five miles east of the nearest point on the Drocourt line. There were only highly mobile patrols, pushing out to try to seize the bridgeheads.

By today's success the British struck the Germans one of the most smashing and strategically serious blows they ever had received in a single day's fighting. The Germans are reported to have eight divisions standing to meet the blow.

Among the prisoners taken are men who had been hurriedly thrown in the line for all sorts of units.

Life's Gentler Side Society, Music, Song and the Dance—At the Play-houses. REVIEWS. "A HOOSIER ROMANCE."

James Whitcomb Riley Play at Miller's. DRAMA. FLASHES. SID CHAPLIN, TOO.

By Grace Kingsley. The whole world of film fans will rejoice at the news that one of its former comedy favorites, Sid Chaplin, has decided again to enter the lists as a comedy star on the screen.

Previous to the meteoric rise of Charlie Chaplin, brother of Sid, the latter was himself one of the big lights in the comedy picture world. And when he returned to a position unique in the annals of stage and screen, during his contract with Keaton, Sid Chaplin retired to take his place in the comedy picture world.

Now that there are running smoothly, however, and as much as there have been various demands and character to the screen, he has about decided to do so.

"Sid Chaplin will make his comedy debut in the Chaplin studio in Hollywood, provided he goes into the business," said Mrs. Chaplin, yesterday, when she admitted her husband had come to the same conclusion.

On some of the advertisements for the play they have the line, "Marriage: the thing that everybody wants to enter or seeks to avoid or escape." That is as untrue as it is attractive. Marriage is more like the liver, the lungs or a healthy conscience. You must have them and you don't have to think about them. Marriage is also a good deal like death. In fact, you don't have to worry about it until it gets you, and then there is nothing you can do about it. Happy people accept life and in the acceptance of life comes the right marriage at the right time and with the right results. It is also like politics, in that case is a condition that admits of neither theory nor precedent. "Platitudes can't make a wrong marriage right or a right one wrong."

You see, this play starts out by trying to prevent one girl from marrying the man she loves and by trying to make her sister marry a man she does not love. What a Goodwin occupies the center of the stage and announces that a home is a place to leave a wife, and the part of an old judge who thinks he believes in a trial marriage when he really believes in a trial separation, and gets cured of that belief in a very few days. When you sit all of the play's sophistry down to bedrock you find nothing left except the old order, which is that people who are not in love ought not to marry, and those who are really in love have nothing else left to do. None of the pretended enemies of the marriage institution have ever suggested anything remotely plausible to take its place. Anyway, none of us have any theories of our own, and we would rather try on our own children, and few of us would willingly choose parents for ourselves.

Of course, in a play of so many good parts, all of the people taking them are important. It is fortunate that they are all taken by important people. The same twist might be repeated by saying that the play is by way of becoming a setting for Nat Goodwin, and that the setting is entirely becoming to him. It is a series of fortunate circumstances that have made this a particularly interesting play.

Mr. Carter himself has a most pleasing personality and releases the running fire of nonsense during his monologues.

This sort of show draws a class of people who never go to a theater on any other occasion, and in consequence the Marion plays are today and last night to capacity business and the people were satisfied.

Forio Rico Starts Vice Campaign. (BY A. J. CORRESPONDENT.) SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Sept. 1.—A call has been issued for several thousand women in Porto Rico to form a police women's reserve, for the purpose of aiding in the correction of the "decadent immoral conditions" which are said to exist not only in San Juan, but elsewhere.

Colleen Moore, the little girl who eloped with the hired man.

When a poem is set to pictures you have, of course, two poems, the second perhaps lovelier than the first. The same thing happens when you set a poem to music, for all art is poetry—even the art of the motion picture, though often the directors do their damndest to prove me wrong in my contention.

James Whitcomb Riley may or may not have been a poet of the first rank. We'll not discuss the question today. But he was certainly a poet with a heart, and he knew how to reach the hearts of his readers. His poems were not only beautiful, but they were also beautiful in a wholesome and sound way that gives the honest life to all of our disheveled belongings. It is a fine feat that "Why Marry?" carries a message. It spends three minutes of time in claiming the demerit marriage from every angle and then winds up by letting everybody marry just the one they love and by reminding those who thought that they wanted to be divorced. That is all that the motion picture, though often the directors do their damndest to prove me wrong in my contention.

PRAYER PLEA IS HEARD BY MANY

War Adds Note of Solemnity to Park Gatherings.

Armenians Moved to Tears by Tale of Atrocities.

Picnics Draw Thousands to Our Pleasure Resorts.

"God bless America and strengthen her hand, and make her and her allies victorious over those forces of evil that would destroy the world and the sweet influence of the gentle and precious Christ! Grant that we, who live in this land of freedom, may ever pray and believe that Thou wilt, in thine own good time and vondrous way, cause the light of love to banish every shadow of sin and make all peoples of the earth free in deed and truth. In the name of thy divine Son, in thine own blessed name we ask it. Amen and amen!"

This prayer, offered in the Armenian tongue by Rev. Adam Melikian in the presence of 200 members of the Armenian Relief Society in Sycamore Grove yesterday, stirred the little audience to tears and smiles—tears for sorrowful memories and the sad knowledge of Armenia's plight, smiles for the hope which the words of the priest awakened in every heart. At the conclusion of his address, Rev. Melikian sang a solo, and then the audience joined in an old Armenian hymn. Other speakers on the programme were Revs. A. Yerejian, V. V. Kasparian and Ostor Arakelian. Besides the Armenian Society, others who were other picnics held in Sycamore Grove yesterday, these being the Livingston, (Mo.), Hamilton County (Indiana), Whiteside county (Illinois), and the Oskaloosa county (Iowa) societies' picnics. The Florence Methodist Church picnic, which was a religious and church celebration and a gathering of a contingent of the Salvation Army. Everywhere the war seemed to add a new note of solemnity to the park gatherings, though the holiday lured thousands to the various pleasure resorts of the city and vicinity.

Not only in Sycamore Grove, but in various other parks and places in and near Los Angeles there were picnics yesterday. There was a picnic of the Keweenaw (Illinois) Society at Lincoln Park, a gathering of the Ft. Wayne (Indiana) Society members at Hollenbeck Park and a meeting of the American (Kansas) Society at Brookside. The members of Rising Light Lodge, No. 397, F. and A. M., made themselves at home in beautiful Griffith Park, while the Modern Woodmen of the World, for ones in history, mercifully spared the young trees by holding forth at Redondo Beach, where there was not even a temptation to do the George Washington stunt. Barker and his gang, who were there for the amusement of the picnic, started last Saturday and on Sunday with a tremendous, though innocent, hurrah last night.

In every department of the Federal Building there was a happy cessation of labor and the postoffice people observed the usual holiday hours.

Former Councilman John Topham was the principal speaker at the picnic of the Sons of St. George at Eagle Rock Park. He told of the growth of the British army from that famous first expeditionary force of 140,000 men that aided in turning back Von Kluck at the Marne to the present force of 3,000,000 effective.

Frank E. Purcell, a former president of the Fort Wayne Society of Los Angeles, presided at the society's eleventh annual meeting at Hollenbeck Park, Miss Mary A. Ohneck, the president, being incapacitated by illness, though she was present. Upward of 160 members registered and there were others sufficient to carry the total attendance above the 200 mark. Included in this number were Col. D. N. Foster, Capt. W. J. Kealey and Ernest Shuman, prominent residents of Fort Wayne and members of the G. A. R., who came West to attend the encampment at Portland, Or. Each responded to a call for a speech. Hon. James M. Robinson, the speaker, who was a few years ago known every man in the Twelfth Congress District of Indiana, which he represented in the United States House of Representatives, made a strong patriotic address. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. George Flansberg; treasurer, Mrs. Minnie Harmon.

UNION LABOR PICNIC.

Large Crowd Gathered at Scott's Zoo Park for Games, Speeches and Dancing.

Between 4000 and 5000 people participated in the union labor celebration of Labor Day at Scott's Zoo Park yesterday. There was a programme of sports and athletic events in the forenoon, and a band concert and dancing in the evening. The speaking programme occurred in the afternoon.

"Curly" Grew was the chairman, and he and Coudimari Criswell spoke in glorification of the labor unions. They were followed by Joseph Scott, who divided his time between laudations of the labor unions and Sam Gompers, his recent three weeks' stay in Paris, and a rabid attack upon The Times' main grievance against Scott's main grievance against The Times appears to be the fact that no extensive space was devoted to his trip to Paris and his accounts of it since his return to Los Angeles.

In contradistinction to Mr. Scott's fervid declarations in favor of the open shop policy and industrial freedom for Los Angeles, when he was president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, he declared yesterday that the labor unions had always felt, and could always feel, that they could call upon him for any assistance within his power. There was also a notable change in Mr. Scott's attitude compared with that presented at the president. At that time he said that "the union tries to start discord in this city at this time is not a good citizen." Yesterday he used much time in his telling of what he hoped would happen to this paper.

"Don't Marry," Says Nat, Sadly.

Nat C. Goodwin.

Photographed ten minutes after his arrival here yesterday.

Ought to Know.

GOODWIN DENIES RUMOR OF A SIXTH MARRIAGE.

wives, Edna Goodwin, are likely to co-star in a new play next season. "I got a telegram from Edna today asking me to go and see her mother at the Lankershim, and telling me that she is going to the finish. If we can get a suitable play, Good plays are as hard to get as good wives."

Mr. Goodwin affirms that history will not repeat itself with respect to his matrimonial misadventures. "Why marry?" he chirps. "Everybody's happy now, and there is no necessity for anyone being married with another wedding ring. When are superfluous. At least they have been to me. I don't need any more; I don't want any more. Why marry?"

Nat says that he predicts the war will end in two, perhaps three years. He predicted it some time before it was thought of, and on the strength of its materialization he says it will end as per his prediction.

"I've wanted to get over there with

"Eddie" Sothorn and entertain the boys, but what with wives and property deals and theatrical contracts and managers that wouldn't let me go, I stood a fat chance. I'm going to go over as soon as I can—maybe next season. If Edna doesn't make me co-star with her."

"And after all that I want to do a series of two-reel motion picture comedies—not like any of the trash that I've done heretofore, but something that can rightly be called a comedy. You know, one can be just as funny in a dress suit as he can in overalls with a custard pie spread all over his face. You don't have to wear a set of outlandish clothes that no one has ever heard of before you class yourself as funny. Not for me."

Some one has called Mr. Goodwin for his cue. Outside one of his stage wives beckoned to him. Which, of course, brings us back to the original topic.

"Why marry?" Ask Nat Goodwin, he knows.

BRINGS MESSAGE TO SHIPYARD WORKERS.

NATIONAL SERVICE SPEAKER TO DELIVER ADDRESS AT THE HARBOR.

Dr. D. C. Tremaine of the national service section of the United States Shipping Board, who recently won back 1700 shipyard workers who had been urged by their leaders to strike, will address the workmen of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company today at 12:15 o'clock.

Dr. Tremaine and J. B. Hathaway are on a 12,000-mile tour, visiting and talking to every workman and at every shipyard of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

"The purpose of this tour," said Dr. Tremaine yesterday at the Roslyn, "is to bring to the men a message from the front to encourage them and to appeal to their loyalty as demonstrated by greater work. We have 1,000,000 men in Europe, but only 12,000 on the front. Each of each man at the front, four men must sustain him. And back of each man at the front has to go without ammunition one hour and seventeen minutes."

Dr. Tremaine says that the workers meet him with great enthusiasm. At the Submarine Corporation at Harrison, N. J., where an efficiency system is in force, it cost the corporation $10,000 in lost time for the workers, but the system showed that the efficiency of the afternoon was 10 to 15 per cent. greater. The speaker will leave today for the Virginia Hotel, Long Beach, to be near the shipbuilders there.

Sergeant Hathaway, like Dr. Tremaine, is from New York. He is a Spanish-American veteran, and was in the navy three years, and was two years and nine months at the front with the Fourth Battalion, Canadian Infantry. He will tell of the work at the battle lines.

LIVE-STOCK BREEDERS FORM ORGANIZATION.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

TULARE, Sept. 2.—Tulare stock breeders have perfected a permanent organization for conducting sales of pure-bred cattle here, and for the erection of a suitable pavilion, in which stock from all parts of the country can be properly exhibited prior to announced sales dates. Officers of the organization, chosen as a preliminary to incorporation under the State laws, are: A. K. Macomber, president; R. C. Surgeson, secretary and treasurer, and those with George Burnett, Alex Whaley and W. J. Hilden will make up the board of directors.

About $5000 of the sum for construction of the proposed pavilion has already been raised.

HERE IS ONE THING THAT IS ABSOLUTELY IMPOSSIBLE

Rheumatism Has Never Been Cured by Liniments or Lotions and Never Will Be.

You never know of Rheumatism that most painful source of suffering—being cured by liniments, lotions or other external applications. And you will never see anything but temporary relief afforded by such makeshifts.

But why be satisfied with temporary relief from the pangs of pain which are sure to return with increased severity, when there is permanent relief within your reach? Science has proven that Rheumatism is a disordered condition of the blood. How then, can satisfactory results be expected from any treatment that does not reach the blood?

A valuable book on the subject and its treatment, together with medical advice about individual cases, will be sent to you free. Write today to the Department, Swift Specialty Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.
